Fourth of Oakland Quota For Red Cross Is Secured Soon After Drive Opens

COUNTY AND CITY READY TO GIVE FOR HUMANITY

Oakland's Red Cross Quota....$200,000.00
Oakland's Subscriptions to Date 45,622.50
To Be Subscribed.....$154,377.50

Leaders Issue Statements Enlist City Heart and Soul

The following statements on the Red Cross drive were made today by Harry East Miller, chairman Oakland Chapter, and R. B. Ayer, chairman second war fund campaign:

Open Drive to Collect Share of $100,000,000 Fund Asked for by National Body; Subscriptions Already Pouring In

OAKLAND'S QUOTA IS FIXED AT $200,000

Systematic Plans Are Made to Keep in Careful Touch With Work of Campaign; Little Preparation Found Necessary

Alameda county opened its share of the big nation-wide Red Cross drive this morning with a somewhat different sentiment behind the move than has characterized previous efforts. All the indifference of former drives is gone. All of the questioning of purposes, methods and means is eliminated. The parade of Saturday—a solid mile of it—and the casualty lists from the war zone have made the Red Cross something vividly real. And Alameda county and her sister cities are ready to supply their quota of money as they have supplied their quota of men.

Oakland especially has been anxious for this drive to begin. So anxious, in fact, that it has begun to send money in advance subscriptions long before the drive was under way. More than $50,000 has been either turned in to the general committee headquarters or has been pledged from certain sources before work began today. Stacked high on the list to make up the national need of $100,000,000 has been formed. Thousands of volunteers will be enlisted for the work—the greatest which the country has ever undertaken. For where the Liberty Bond drive touched the individual remotely, the Red Cross drive comes home to each and every man and woman of every city with direct emphasis. Not a person but has a relative or friend in whose window hangs a service flag. And it is for the American lad and the British lad and the French lad and the Italian and every one of the allied lads represented by those stars that the drive is on.

MANY VOLUNTEERS TO BE ENROLLED

The local fund drive organization which is to place Oakland's allotment of $200,000 on the list to make up the national need of $100,000,000 has been formed. Thousands of volunteers will be enlisted for the work—the greatest which the country has ever undertaken. For where the Liberty Bond drive touched the individual remotely, the Red Cross drive comes home to each and every man and woman of every city with direct emphasis. Not a person but has a relative or friend in whose window hangs a service flag. And it is for the American lad and the British lad and the French lad and the Italian and every one of the allied lads represented by those stars that the drive is on.

The Red Cross will not send engraved invitations to its volunteer workers to join in the work of collecting money for the great cause of humanity in answer to the cries of the wounded which have been waited to them from the battlefields of Europe. The doors are open at Red Cross headquarters, and every man, woman and child who wants to do a small or large part in the work is welcome. The committee needs workers. It needs talkers, it needs persons of all ranks and types, of responsibility and patriotic motives. Those who come will be inducted into the skeleton ranks to make up a full army which is expected to carry the drive over the top of the quota allotment with an excess margin to spare.

PROGRAM HAS PREPARED SCHEDULE

The program under which the general committee in charge of the work intends to operate includes a carefully prepared schedule of business houses, stores, manufacturing and industrial institutions and private homes. The entire city has been classified and departmented. District captains have been selected who will report each day

TWO CITIES ARE READY TO CLEAR TRACK FOR U. S.

Assurance that the United States Emergency Shipping Board has finally settled upon Government Island in Oakland harbor as the site for its $10,000,000 concrete ship-building plant came today in the form of a draft of the lease which the board wishes to enter into with Oakland and Alameda. The form of lease was submitted to City Attorneys A. F. St. Sure of Alameda and Paul Morf of Oakland, and ordinances based upon this type form are being drawn up for immediate submission to the city councils of the two municipalities. Alameda will probably give the ordinance granting the lease first reading tomorrow night, as Judge St. Sure has completed the draft of the ordinance based on the government forms. Similar action will be taken by the city council of Oakland as soon as a like ordinance has been drawn up by City Attorney Paul Morf.

The ordinance provides for a twenty-five year lease by each city of all its rights in Government Island to the United States Emergency Shipping Board. Under its terms the island is granted to be used for ship-building purposes and work is to be commenced immediately.

It is expected that formal announcement of the selection of Government Island will be made within the next few days from Washington.

Police Cannot Find Jeremiah O'Leary

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Jeremiah O'Leary, editor of the "Bull," recently suppressed by governmental orders, has disappeared from New York. This fact became known today when he was called for trial with others on charges of violating the espionage act. O'Leary's bond of $2000 was ordered forfeited.

Their names are included in an additional list of ten American prisoners of war reported by the royal Prussian war minister.

The other American war prisoners whose names are in the latest list are: The ten are: Jack de La Haron, seaman, interned at Camp Aachen. No emergency address.

President Signs New Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The bill calling for the colors all young men who have reached the age of 21 years since last registration day was signed by President Wilson this afternoon. Provost Marshal General Crowder already had set June 5 for their registration.

SINN FEIN PLOTTERS ARE TAKEN TO ENGLAND

Forty-six Arrive at Holyhead, England, On a British Warship; Find Huns Have Been Busy With Irish Long Time

MAJOR JOHN McBRIDE'S WIDOW IS ARRESTED

St. John Gaffney, Discharged U. S. Consul to Germany, Is Said to Have Tried to Get Socialists to Aid in Uprising

HOLYHEAD, England, May 20.—Forty-six Sinn Fein plotters, including Edward De Valera, arrested in connection with the alleged pro-German plot in Ireland, have arrived here aboard a British warship. Seventy others are expected today.

LONDON, May 20.—With the number of Sinn Fein under arrest in various parts of Ireland estimated at from 100 to 500 today and the situation apparently well in hand, it came to light that the German government has intrigued for an Irish rebellion ever since the war began.

Even after failure of the plot instigated by Sir Roger Casement, Chatterton Hill, a renegade Irish editor, financed by a German, published in Prussia a magazine to aid propaganda for an Irish republic.

SAID TO BE ONE OF PLOTTERS.

St. John Gaffney, discharged United States consul to Germany, is alleged to have been among the chief propagandists for Germany. He is said to have gone to Stockholm last summer to get Dutch and Scandinavian Socialists to support an Irish republic. He carried, it is said, quantities of violent anti-British and pro-German literature.

All the chief plotters are now believed to be in custody.

A desperate eleven-hour attempt to turn tables on the government forces were made yesterday by Sinn Fein in County Tyrone, while Viscount French's "dragnet" was gathering in 500 men and women conspirators in the German-Irish revolt plot.

A crowd of masked men stormed Barncourt Castle, the seat of the Duke of Abercorn, and made an unsuccessful search for arms.

GOVERNMENT HOUSES GUARDED.

Advices from Cork say the army and government buildings there and also the railways have been placed under guard.

There has been scarcely any bloodshed in the island-wide roundup of plotters. Except for the abortive raid on Carncourt Castle, the only disturbance reported so far took place at Skibbereen, where seven Sinn Fein resisted constabulary forces that tried to arrest them.

One of the protesters is reported to have been shot in the arm. Troops are guarding the government buildings and railways in Cork.

A special trainload of Sinn Fein prisoners from the west of Ireland passed through Dublin last night en route to Kingstown.

BELFAST, May 20.—Maud Gonne McBride, widow of Major John McBride, who was executed in May, 1916, for the part taken by him in the Dublin uprising on Easter, that year, has been arrested.

Mayor Says Magoon Used Name in Vain

Charging that L. B. Magoon, president of the East Bay Public Ownership League, has used the name of Mayor Davis in a campaign to obtain signatures to a petition calling for an election to form a public utilities district, Preston L. Higgins, secretary to Mayor Davis, today declared that Magoon is violating the law, and that legal action will be started.

According to Secretary Higgins, the matter has been called to the Mayor's attention on several occasions. The most recent case, he said, was when Mrs. A. C. Lewis, a resident of Sec. 14, fourth avenue, related that she had been informed by Magoon that the Mayor favored the plan and that upon the representation she went to the office of County Clerk Gross and asked to be sworn in as a verification.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN PATH OF HUN AIR BOMBS

Raiding Machines Fly Over the City at Height of 12,000 Ft. and Drop Hundreds of Missiles on the Helpless People

COUNTRY FOLK ARE ALSO VICTIMS

Aero Assault Is Said to Have Been Most Ambitious Ever Delivered by Germans on the Coast of Great Britain

LONDON, May 20.—Thirty-seven men, women and children were killed and 155 wounded in London during the German air raid over this city and the southeastern coast last night, it was officially announced this afternoon. Six persons were injured in the provinces. Four German planes are reported to have been brought down.

The text of the official casualty list follows:

"In London, 17 men, 14 women and 6 children were killed.

"Eighty-three men, 48 women and 23 children were wounded.

"In the provinces, 2 men, 3 women and 1 child were injured."

The casualties are divided as follows: London and the metropolitan police district—Killed, men 17, women 14; children 6; total, 37. Injured—Men 83, women 48, children 23; total, 155. Provinces—injured, men 2, women 3, children 1; total, 6.

The aerial attack of the Germans yesterday in London and its environs was the most ambitious ever undertaken. Never before was there such a continued volley of firing from the British anti-aircraft batteries.

Except for a few brief pauses, the gunners blazed away with a terrible concentration of fire. The raiding Gothas flew at a great height, the majority of them keeping well up to 12,000 feet in a very clear sky.

It was the first raid on London since March 7. Four of the raiders fell before the defenses of London. The moon was shining brightly when the raiders crossed the southeastern point and headed for the metropolis.

The usual raiding planes given promptly and the people had time to reach shelters before the guns in the neighborhood of London were heard. The firing was almost continuous for more than two hours and was unusually severe.

The raid was one of the most exciting Londoners have yet experienced. As the enemy machines approached the sky was filled with bursting shrapnel.

TORNADO TAKES TWELVE LIVES IN NEBRASKA

BLOOMFIELD, Neb., May 20.—Twelve persons killed, mostly children, and 25 injured, some dangerously, is the human toll of the tornado that swept this portion of Nebraska Saturday night. The dead: Mrs. Herman Haggis and one child. Mr. and Mrs. August Fredericksen and two children.

Mrs. August Fredericksen and one child were instantly killed. Fredericksen and a baby seven months old died Sunday afternoon. One child, 7 years old, is the only survivor of the family.

CROFTON, Neb., May 20.—Two persons were killed and 25 injured, six perhaps fatally, in a tornado that swept from eight miles northeast of Bloomfield through Crofton Saturday night. The twister razed 15 farm houses, many outbuildings and killed many head of cattle and horses.

America Increases Its Naval Patrol Forces in Defense Against Divers

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The American navy is increasing its patrol force in European waters, the navy department officially stated today.

LONDON, May 20.—"Our troops conducted a successful raid in the Albert sector yesterday, taking a few prisoners," Field Marshal Haig reported today.

MAJOR LUFBERY, FAMOUS "ACE" IS DOWNED IN DUEL

By FRANK J. TAYLOR, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN LORRAINE, May 20.—Major Raoul Lufbery, American "ace" and former member of the Lafayette Escadrille, was killed in an air battle over the American lines yesterday.

Lufbery was struck by a machine gun bullet during a running fight and fell from his monoplane.

The body fell in the American front line and was recovered.

Lufbery was from Wallingford Conn. He was credited with having brought down eighteen German airplanes.

It was about 10 o'clock in the morning when a German tri-plane suddenly descended from the clouds, apparently because of engine trouble, until it was only some 1500 meters over the city of Toul. The American line, Lufbery was seen to attack first under the tail, but then he drew off as if his machine gun had been jammed. Two minutes later he attacked again from the same position and almost immediately his machine burst into flames.

Major Raoul Lufbery has been attached to the American aviation corps less than four months, but before that he had made a brilliant record as a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, with the French army, and was generally accounted the leader of the Americans. Recently he brought down his eighteenth enemy machine, which so far as is known was the number standing in his credit when he was killed, and he was by far the most successful American aviator, either with the American or the French army.

A French aviator this afternoon shot down an enemy plane back of the Lunville sector. Two men from the plane were captured by the Americans. The Germans came from somewhere in the rear. It is reported, though not confirmed, that this is the machine which brought down Major Lufbery.

JUGO SLAVS AND CZECHS PRAISE PRESIDENT OF U. S.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, May 20.—A state of siege has been proclaimed at Prague, the Bohemian capital, by the police. The military garrison has been reinforced. These counter measures, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Zurich, followed demonstrations of an anti-German character in which Czechs and Jugo Slavs paraded through the streets shouting "Long live Wilson, Clemenceau and Lloyd George."

At a performance in the Bohemian Theater, speeches violently attacking Germany were delivered and the renewal of the alliance between Germany and Austria-Hungary was denounced. Several deputies addressed the crowd, urging resistance to the end and the sacrifice of wealth and blood for Romania.

The theater was then closed and rioting occurred in the streets outside.

The Jugo Slavs who have participated in the Bohemian festivities were ordered to leave the city. Crowds singing patriotic songs accompanied them to the railway station.

"An attempted enemy raid of Hinges was repulsed with heavy losses. Hostile artillery fire increased considerably last night on the Albert-Buquoy front."

(Albert is about sixteen miles north-east of Amiens. Hinges is on the Flanders front, between two and three miles northwest of Bethune. Buquoy lies about half way between Albert and Arras.)

AUSTRALIANS WIN IN SURPRISE ATTACK

Australian troops captured the village of Ville-Sur-Ancra, north of the Somme, in a surprise attack Saturday night, taking 860 prisoners and 20 machine guns. The Australian casualties were light. Field Marshal Haig said in his night report.

Regarding this operation, the German war office said that "British light troops on the south bank of the Ancre sangunarily collapsed."

Twenty-five persons were killed and forty-seven injured when Cologne was bombed by allied airplanes, said a Central News despatch from Amsterdam. Bombs fell in the heart of the city and heavy damage was done. The populace was panic-stricken.

In aerial fighting Saturday 21 German aeroplanes were destroyed and two disabled by British aviators. The statement on aerial operations also reports continuation of the bombing of enemy railway stations, air-dromes, munition dumps and billets, as well as "on the submarine base at Zeelbrugge."

Photographs taken of the harbor of the blocked German submarine base at Zeelbrugge and the "Ruud canal show that they are unchanged from April 13 (when British raiders sunk ships to bottle up the harbor), said an admiralty statement today.

The report added that the greater part of the enemy's submarine and torpedo craft that had used the Flanders coast for a base have been immobile at Bruges since Zeelbrugge was won.

AMERICAN FIXES WRECK ENEMY PLANES

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Aside from aerial activity on both sides yesterday was a quiet day at all points occupied by American troops, says General Pershing in his official communique transmitted today to the war department.

"Our aviators brought down two hostile machines," it says.

The communique brings official news of the capture of Major Raoul Lufbery, and tells also of the gallantry of two negro troopers who while wounded fought off a party of 20 German raiders.

PARIS, May 20.—French and Italian troops have made an advance of 25 kilometers (12 1/2 miles) on the western end of the Macedonian front, the official French announces.

FRENCH MAKE BIG GAIN BEFORE REIMS

"The artillery dueling has become more violent in the region of Hancard (opposite Amiens on the Ploisy battlefront)," the French war office reported today. "Our patrols south of the Avre and west of Castel took some prisoners."

"Northwest of Rheims, near Permercourt, we penetrated to the enemy's third line trench where we destroyed military works and captured some prisoners, one an officer, as well as war materials."

"The Germans tried to raid our lines in the sectors of Vandœuvre and the Boischailliers, but without success."

"Elsewhere the night was calm."

VIENNA, May 20.—The official statement from Austro-Hungarian general headquarters today reads: "Reciprocal reconnoitering activity on the Tyrolean west front and the Vinzenzen mountain led to fighting favorable to us. East of Monte Perica (east of the Brenna) the enemy was repulsed twice in hand-to-hand fighting."

Wilson Given New Power in Overman Bill

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Wilson signed the Overman bill, under the provisions of which he is given almost unlimited power to reorganize the executive departments of the government.

MARCH TO BE GIVEN RANK OF FULL GENERAL

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The nominations of Major General Peyton C. March, acting chief of staff, to be a full general, and of General Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff, to be brevet general, were sent to the Senate by President Wilson this afternoon.

General Tasker Bliss, now chief of staff and American representative on the Versailles council, will become a brevet-general.

These changes mean vastly more than merely the honor to March of being a full general.

They spell the removal of restrictions on him as acting chief of staff, which he encountered because some other major-generals outranked him.

The change was decided upon today following Secretary of War Baker's consultation with senators Saturday at the war council session. Sounding out their sentiment, he found that March's nomination would undoubtedly pass the Senate quickly and without any opposition.

Baker was told the Senate thinks very well of March, who has demonstrated in his brief tenure as acting chief of staff that he is a "live wire," with no respect for red tape and with a hearty hatred for delay or friction.

For March the change is momentous. Coming in from his post of artillery chief with General Pershing, he found that he was ranked either consciously or unconsciously by the seniority rule and that major-generals who outranked him sometimes stood in his path.

Half Sick, Half Well

A Condition That Will Not Improve Upon Itself.

In the Spring the depressing condition that many call Spring fever often runs through families and neighborhoods.

This indefinite, hard-to-describe state of poor health probably means that you are thin-blooded and anemic. Exhausted thin blood gets thinner, low vitality falls lower, poor appetite becomes poorer. Then the thoroughly exhausted system can no longer resist, and on comes the prostrating illness or serious disease.

Treat the half-sick, Spring-tired condition with that splendid cure of medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla, to fortify the whole body; Pepsin, to ironize and make rich red blood; Hood's Pills to rouse the liver to its regular daily duties; and the half-well remedy to perfect health. Each medicine is valuable in itself but is trebly so when used in this combination.—Advertisement.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid low by the fatal condition known as "rupture." Many of these unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you give it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO-DRAP when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or irritate. Soft as velvet—easy to apply— inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached. Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 67, 12th St., New York City, for trial PLAPAO and the instructive information necessary.—Advertisement.

War Origin Proved in Berlin Duplicity of Foe Is Revealed

By HARVEY O. JIGGINS (Continued from yesterday)

Of this memoir he had five or six typewritten copies made. One he sent to Herr Ballin, the head of the Hamburg-American line, a second to Herr Von Gwinner, the head of the Deutsche Bank, and a third to Herr Theodor Wolff, editor of the Radical-Democratic newspaper, the Berliner Tageblatt. A fourth copy went to a friend, an officer attached to the political staff of the German general staff. This officer appears to have manifested interest in his own responsibility and sent copies to various state officials and politicians. He did that, says Theodor Wolff, because "he felt that he was going to save the German people with complete devotion, and he surrendered himself to a pacifism which was a military uniform." He confessed to Herr Wolff what he had done, "it was impossible," the editor says, "to convince him by any logic or on any grounds of reason that his action was wrong, senseless or harmful. He was a Marquis Posa, or, still more, a Horatius Coclès, who, out of love for Rome, or for mankind, sprang into the abyss."

One of his copies of the memoir reached the Socialist newspaper Politiken in Stockholm and was published piecemeal. The German press took it up. The Reichstag debated it. Lichnowsky was deprived of his diplomatic rank, forbidden to write for publication and virtually imprisoned in his home in Graz. The newspapers demanded that he be court-martialed. In the semi-official Cologne Gazette, demanded that he "be held up to public contempt ruthlessly." The writer argued: "What will our thousands of war cripples say when this affair is brought to their attention? Have these men joyfully sacrificed their health only to be told at this stage of the war by a Prince Lichnowsky that it was not necessary?"

ENGLAND'S GUILT A FICTION. Von Jagow's reply to the prince only served to make matters worse. His contention that England had not brought on the war enraged the pan-German press. It was seized upon triumphantly by the Socialists. The Socialist organ, Vorwaerts, says: "Let us establish the facts. The war was not popular in England; it also was not popular in Russia and France. But it has become popular. The whole world—right away across the Atlantic and the Pacific—is united in hatred against us. We, however, have for almost four years been in contact with the world that England laid all the mines which caused the war—a view which the secretary of state (Von Jagow), in accordance with the evidence of the ambassador (Prince Lichnowsky), has now declared to be false. It is, however, by this false view that the whole war policy of the German empire has been directed—from the declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare, which brought us war with America, down to these chattering speeches which say that Belgium must not again become England's area of military concentration. If all the parties concerned were convinced that the belief in England's guilt is a fiction, why did they pursue a policy which was based upon it?" And the paper concluded: "The German people cannot be satisfied with the methods of governing exercised before and during the war. The German people can only endure after the war as a peace-loving nation that governs itself."

GERMANY'S PLACE IN SUN. But to the American reader, the most important part of Prince Lichnowsky's exposure is not his conclusion that Germany forced a declaration of war. We have long believed that. Our German sympathizers have largely admitted that. But they have pleaded that the Kaiser declared war only because war was inevitable; that Germany was denied her "place in the sun"; that a conspiracy of France, Russia and Great Britain prevented her from obtaining colonies and extending her trade; and that, consequently, Germany had either to take up arms or be throttled to death by Great Britain's trade enemy. Many of these arguments, the true excuse for the British policy, compelled Germany's appeal to the sword, and that Britain's allies are merely "pulling Britain's chestnuts out of the fire," as the German propagandists are continually charging.

Of those procured lies, Prince Lichnowsky's memoirs give a very happy disproof.

It has been pleaded that the policy of France and England in Morocco was anti-German. Prince Lichnowsky writes: "Our German policy in Morocco had repeatedly caused distrust of our peaceful intention, or, at least, had raised doubts as to whether we knew what we wanted, or whether our intention was to keep Europe in a state of suspicion, and, on occasion, to humiliate the French. An Austrian colleague, who was a long time in Paris, said to me, 'The French had begun to forget "la revanche" (their desire for revenge) (German name). You have regularly reminded them of it by trampling on their toes.'"

"After we had declined Delecluse's (the French minister's) offer to come to an agreement regarding Morocco we had solemnly declared that we had no political interest there, we suddenly discovered in Abdul Aziz a second Kruger. To him, also, as to the Boers, we promised the protection of the mighty German empire, and with the same result. Both manifestos concluded with the threat to conclude, with a retraction, if we were not prepared to start a world war."

Our attitude furthered the Russian-Japanese and the Russian-British alliances. In the face of the German policy, all other considerations faded into the background. The possibility of another war between France and Germany had been evident, and such a war could not have been avoided. As in 1870, before Delecluse's fall, and before the Algerian reference, we could have obtained harbors and bases on the west coast of Africa, but that was no longer possible.

In other words, according to Germany's ambassador, it was Germany's threat of war that united the European nations against her in Africa. It was not their union that led to the German threat.

ENGLAND'S FRIENDSHIP. Nevertheless, London "quieted down on the Moroccan affair." The Haldane mission had gone to Berlin to come to an understanding with Germany and that mission failed, Lichnowsky confesses, "because we did not insist on the neutrality" from Great Britain in the event of a European war, "instead of being satisfied with a treaty which secured us against British attack or support."

However, Sir Edward Grey had not given up the idea of coming to an understanding with us, and his first attempts in that direction were in connection with matters relating to trade and colonies.

After reaching an agreement with France and Russia on the old questions in dispute, the British statesman intended to come to similar agreements with us. What he aimed at was not to isolate us, but to have us, as we have said, take a share in the existing partnerships.

"Having succeeded in bridging over the differences which existed between England and France and between England and Russia, he also wanted to remove the last obstacle to the differences between England and Germany, and to insure the peace of the world by means of a network of treaties which should ultimately include a settlement of the miserable war question. Lichnowsky's consequences of our own foreign policy up to then had been the formation of the entente partnership in which these nations pledged themselves to render mutual support in case of war. As he himself expressed it, Grey's policy was this:

"Without infringing on the existing friendly relations with France and Russia, which in themselves contained no aggressive elements and no binding obligations for England, to seek to achieve a more friendly relationship with Germany, and to bring the two groups nearer together."

CONCESSIONS IN BALKANS. That this statement of England's policy was not mere rhetoric, Prince Lichnowsky proves in his long account of the negotiations arising out of the Balkan war and the establishment of Albania.

"At the outbreak of that war," he says, "Germany had unfortunately declined the proposal of the French government to join in a declaration of disinterestedness and impartiality on the part of the powers." On the other hand, he says of Lord Grey:

"From the beginning, the British statesman took the stand that England had no interest in Albania and was therefore unwilling to be involved in a war over this question. He wished simply as an honest broker to mediate between the warring groups and settle the difficulties. Thus he in no wise placed himself on the side of the entente (his allies) and during the negotiation, which lasted about eight months, by virtue of his good will and weighty influence he contributed not a little toward bringing about concord and agreement. Instead of taking a position similar to that of the English, we invariably assumed the attitude prescribed to us from Vienna."

PARTISAN ON ONE SIDE. "On every point, including Albania, the Serbian barbers, in the Adriatic, Scutari and the definition of the Albanian frontiers, we were on the side of Austria and Italy, whilst Sir Edward Grey hardly ever took the French or Russian point of view. On the contrary, he nearly always took our part in order to give no pretext for war. It was with his help that King Nicholas was induced to leave Serutari. Otherwise there would have been war over this matter, as we should never have dared to ask our allies to make concessions."

"Lord Grey conducted the negotiations with circumspection, calmness and tact. Whenever a question threatened to become too heated, he would draft an appropriate formula of agreement which invariably proved acceptable to all. His personality commanded equal confidence among all the members of the conference. Once more we issued successfully from one of those numerous tests of strength which are characteristic of our foreign policy. Russia had had to yield to us at every point, so that she was never in a position to further Serbian ambitions. Albania was created an Austrian vassal state and Serbia was driven from the sea. The result of the conference was therefore a fresh humiliation for Russian self-consciousness."

TURKS BATTLE TO RECAPTURE CITY OF BAKU

PETROGRAD, May 19.—Poleshevski forces which captured Baku, the great oil center on the Caspian sea, are still fighting with the Turkish forces, who are striving to retake the city. It is reported the casualties totaled 2000 killed and 5000 wounded.

German troops have occupied Bjorko, an island in the Gulf of Finland, south of Viborg and 30 miles northwest of Petrograd.

Turkish classes and Kurds, advancing in Persia, have occupied Loubulak and Ushnu, south of Lake Urmia, according to newspaper dispatches from Tiflis. A dispatch from Tiflis says that the Turkish objective is Enzeli, which will become the central base from which the British will be menaced in Mesopotamia.

LONDON, May 20.—A despatch received via the Russian wireless states that General Skoropadski, who recently proclaimed himself head of the Ukrainians, is now declared to be an impostor.

At various places in Ukraine the assemblies have decided to burn all the bread and other foodstuffs. The country is suffering hunger, misery and slavery under the foreign foe (Germans and Austrians). The people are endeavoring to flee to Great Russia. Many towns and villages are in flames.

Almost the whole population is armed and is offering deadly resistance to the attempts to capture them. The ex-czarovitch of Russia is dangerously ill, said an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Moscow today.

The soviets (Bolshevik council) have renewed demands for the trial of the former czar, the despatch added.

(The former czarovitch, heir to the Russian throne under the Romanoffs, was born in August, 1904, and was sickly from birth.)

With its appeal for subscriptions initiated and endorsed by President Wilson, the cabinet, General Pershing, Vice-Admiral Sims, Cardinal Gibbons and others, the Red Cross has set in motion its vast machinery of 20,000,000 members in an extensive campaign of one week to obtain the funds.

necessary for the expansion of a great system of relief work overseas and at home. Contributions to the war fund are described by President Wilson "as the discovery of new opportunities of helpfulness under conditions which translate opportunity into duty."

Since the first band of American workers sailed last June, the Red Cross has built up a system of relief that extends from the home stations of the destroyer fleets on the Irish coast down to the battle lines in Northern Italy.

PATRIOTIC FETE IS STAGED IN S. F.

Consecrated at impressive services that were participated in by Catholic organizations of both sides of the bay, the honor flags of the bay district Catholic organizations today hang at St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco. The ceremonies of consecration, held yesterday with Archbishop Edward J. Hanna officiating, was the most remarkable patriotic demonstration ever staged by a church in the west. Thousands took part and tens of thousands watched as the impressive ceremonies were carried out. Fifteen thousand men, members of the League of the Cross Cadets and the Knights of Columbus, all in white robes, marched in parade and carried the service flags, the Young Men's Institute banner bearing 753 stars, the Knights of Columbus 1122.

NOTABLES VIEW PARADE

Governor Stephens, Mayor Rolph, Brigadier-General Charles Treat, Brigadier-General E. J. McClelland and the archbishop reviewed the parade from the cathedral steps. Five thousand were turned away for lack of room at the ceremonies inside the lavishly-decorated church. Archbishop Hanna formally blessed the flags at the close of an eloquent appeal to the patriots of America to rally to the cause of their native land. The vesper service was conducted by Rev. Charles A. Ramm, assisted by Rev. John Harrington and Rev. Francis J. Ahern. The master of ceremonies was Rev. James P. Cantwell, and the archbishop was assisted by Rev. P. E. Mulligan and Rev. P. Foote. Rev. William Sullivan addressed the overflow crowds on the steps of the church. Delegations attending the ceremonies represented Catholic organizations of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, Vallejo, San Jose, Stockton, Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Santa Cruz, Fresno, Hollister and Grass Valley.

COUNTY DELEGATION

The Alameda county delegations were headed by Serra Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. Faithful Navigator Leo J. McCarthy, chief of staff; Faithful Admiral Walter A. Chwen, line command; Faithful Pilot D. F. Mannion. Oakland Division of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus was under command of Sir Knight Dr. John S. Eng, D. D. L., Thomas I. Goodfellow, P. L. McVama, Thomas F. Hogan, Joseph P. Wohlfrom, C. J. Twomey. Berkeley Division of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus was under command of Sir Knight Dixon L. Phillips, L. M. Bardet. Alameda Division was under command of Sir Knight Al Mulvaney Sr.

Doctor Van Dyke to Lecture on Perfidy of Potsdam Gang

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, who arrives in San Francisco today to visit the training stations at Goat Island and Mare Island, denounces as treason against our own country and against the cause of peace any suggestion of mediation at the present time. Our present duty, he says, is to fight on beside our allies until we have brought the German government to terms. Peace does not mean a mere cessation of hostilities. It means that the burglar shall give back all that he has grabbed, that the marauder shall make good all the damage he has done. It means a league of free states, great and small, united to prevent the recurrence of the bloody calamity precipitated upon the world by the autocratic Potsdam gang.

Dr. Van Dyke resigned his post as United States minister to Holland in the third year of the war, principally because he is a man of strong convictions, and the habit of speaking them freely, and he found it impossible to represent neutrality when he was so close to the brutal actualities of the war. At the present time he holds a commission in the United States navy and is under orders from the Navy Department.

Arrangements have been made by Paul Elder for Dr. Van Dyke to give a public lecture in Oakland tomorrow evening (Tuesday) at the Auditorium Theatre on the subject, "Our Country's Conscience in This War." Professor Henry Morse Stephens will preside at the event. The tickets are on sale at Sherman & Clay's.

Two Suspects Held; Carried Ship Plans

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—News-papers clippings, detailing the activities of the Bolsheviks, detail drawings of ships and mines and sets of artists' materials, captured by the police with the arrest of two hangers-on found loitering about the Schwabacher ship-building plant, are being examined in detail by the navy intelligence bureau today.

The two men, jailed by the navy officers and now confined at the Hall of Justice, give their names as Robert Williamson and Michael Bellanin. They say they are Russians and that they came to this country nine years ago. Bellanin was for a time employed as driller's helper in the ship plant. Williamson is being held on a vagrancy charge pending investigation, and Bellanin on a charge of evading the draft law, he having no registration card.

Aged Man Saves Hotel From Flames

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Battling alone far into the night, although slightly burned, and sacrificing all his own property, O. W. Dickey, 65, saved the William S. Tevis summer home on Lake Tahoe, Mrs. Anita Baldwin's Hotel Tallac, and thousands of dollars worth of other property from fire on May 11.

E. W. Hunt, of the California Fish and Game Commission, told the story of Dickey's heroism on his return from Tahoe yesterday. Dickey, superintendent of the Tevis place, Arrowhead Cottage, possesses remarkable strength for one of his years. When the burning of his cottage and adjoining buildings threatened the destruction of his employer's home, one of the finest places on the lake, Dickey fought the fire as only a mountaineer can, stopping his mad rush through the forest toward the hotel, a mile distant, and controlling it until assistance arrived.

When arrested Grant is said to have been leading his 3-year-old son along the street and to have been highly intoxicated. There are four children in the family. According to the police the wife stated that Grant spent his earnings for liquor.

The GREATEST MOTHER in the WORLD

Stretching forth her hands to all in need; to Jew or Gentile, black or white; knowing no favorite, yet favoring all.

Ready and eager to comfort at a time when comfort is most needed. Helping the little home that's crushed beneath an iron hand by showing mercy in a healthy, human way; rebuilding it, in fact, with stone on stone; replenishing empty bins and empty cupboards; bringing warmth to hearts and hearths too long neglected.

Seeing all things with a mother's sixth sense that's blind to jealousy and meanness; seeing men in their true light, as naughty children — snatching, biting, bitter—but with a hidden side that's quickest touched by mercy.

Reaching out her hands across the sea to No Man's land; to cheer with warmer comforts thousands who must stand and wait in stench and crawling holes and water-soaked entrenchments where cold and wet bite deeper, so they write, than Boche steel or lead.

She's warming thousands, feeding thousands, healing thousands from her store; the Greatest Mother in the World—the RED CROSS.

The opening shoot of the California Nevada tournament which took place at the San Jose Club yesterday, resulted in some high scores being made. O. N. ### Curley Brown in Great Shape for Shutout Victory

SACRAMENTO, May 20.—Curley Brown, the left-handed twirler of the Angels, had his win in extra time shape here yesterday afternoon, and held Bill Hunter, the big Seals slugger, to five scattered hits and no runs, while his mates scored four off the first three innings, but the benches saw Brown working in his best form to keep the runners from getting to the plate. Only one run, a home run by McGee, was scored in the first three innings, and only one other got as far as second. The Angels paired a couple of hits off the Seals' pitcher in the fourth inning, and another pair in the seventh brought them their third run. Their last score was made in the eighth. Griegs pitched for the Angels, and Gardner finished the game for the Coyotes without any further damage being done. Hunter, who was the hero of the game, was hit by a line drive from McGee in the seventh, but his failure to keep the Angels from bunting them lost his game.

S. P. Will Drop Fare Raise Plea

Tomorrow will probably see the dismissal of the Southern Pacific complaint in the local ferry fare case, in which it sought fare raises, when the case comes up after several weeks before the State Railroad Commission. This action is in view of the government decision that the Southern Pacific local lines and ferries are an integral part of the transportation system and therefore under government control. The Southern Pacific, following the government decision, has already asked that the local switching case before the state commission be dismissed, and that the Oakland inter-yard case be dropped.

RED CROSS WEEK.

"When you give, something of your heart,
something of your soul, something of yourself
goes with the gift, particularly when it is given in such form that it never can come back by way of direct benefit to yourself. . . .
Well, there is no expectation of favors to come in this kind of giving. These things are bestowed in order that the world may be a fitter
place to live in, that men may be succored, that homes may be restored, that suffering
may be relieved; that the face of the earth may have the blight of destruction taken away from it and that wherever force goes there may go mercy and helpfulness."—From address by President Wilson in behalf of the second Red Cross fund.

In the above the President has uncovered the well of satisfaction at which all who give for the aid of the Red Cross work may drink. There all whose intuition of chivalry, patriotism, national and humanitarian service and honor has not been blunted may find real joy. A medium is provided by which every man and woman who remains at home may do something unselfishly, voluntarily, on their own account, to aid America and the world. There is no incentive of 4 1/4 percent interest on a high-grade negotiable bond. All that you may contribute to the American Red Cross goes to support the work of mercy and reconstruction back of the battle lines in the stricken countries of Europe, back of the great war zone where American men are fighting for the life of their country.

The President has also said that when you give,
"give absolutely all that you can spare and don't consider yourself liberal in the giving. If you give with self-adulation, you are not giving at all; you are giving to your own vanity. But if you give until it hurts, then your heart blood goes into it."
There is the unfailing guide to your giving. Give until it hurts! Then only may you feel sure that you have done your duty toward providing for the maximum dispensation of mercy and succor and relief during the critical months to come.

THE SHIPBUILDERS' GOAL.

Shipbuilding facilities on the Oakland-Alameda estuary did mighty well Saturday when three plants sent four steel freighters off the ways. Over 34,000 dead weight tons of ocean tonnage was put in the water and within a few weeks the four ships will be ready for their final trials and service in taking supplies and men to Europe.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab said a few days ago that by the middle of 1919 he expected to be turning out merchant vessels at the rate of three or four a day,
and that he would be producing two a day before the end of the present year. The Alameda County shipyards are credited with contracts to build one-sixth of the total number of ships now on the government's construction schedule. If Mr. Schwab speaks from knowledge as well as hope, and he has never been known to speak otherwise, this county will be producing two ships a week before the end of the year. By June, 1919, the rate of production will be four ships a week.

This is the goal for the Oakland and Alameda plants—four ships a week. Therefore the launching of four ships on one day is not an extraordinary event; it will be repeated many times before the contracts with the government are filled.

THE ALLIES IN SIBERIA.

The program of the governments of the entente Alliance for dealing with the German menace in Siberia and the Far East generally has been announced. The Allies will consider military action in Siberia as a necessary step for the protection of Allied interests against Germany. Such action will be taken in the name of all the Allies and the responsibility for the result will be collective and mutual.

It will be recalled that The TRIBUNE pointed out
two months ago that this was the course the Allies inevitably would follow. Japan and China may be requested to furnish the military forces necessary for the Siberian defensive, but France, England and the United States will be responsible for the outcome and have a voice in directing the military operations.

Protection of war material in Vladivostok and the establishment of a military line from that port to Harbin and further east in outer Mongolia is absolutely necessary for the security of two of the Allied nations—Japan and China. Any action taken will be friendly to the Russian people and designed exclusively to forestall the designs of Germany,
aided by the intrigues of a few Russians, to strike
at the Allies on the Asiatic side of the Pacific.

In determining what is true friendship for the Russian people it may be necessary to differ from the Red government of Moscow and the Soviet congress. But opposition to the German military machine is the true test of friendliness for the Russian democrats and on that the Allies will continue to base their policy and program.

MILITARY TRAINING.

Military instruction will occupy an even more conspicuous place in the curricula of colleges and universities during the school year beginning next September than it has during the year just closed.
The War Department has called upon all the higher educational institutions to help prepare young men for military service. Not only will University of California and Stanford University increase their efforts at training, but the smaller colleges will also "do their bit."

According to the explanation of the War Department military instruction under officers and noncommissioned officers of the Army will be provided in every institution of college grade, which enrolls for the instruction 100 or more able-bodied students over the age of 18. The necessary military equipment will, so far as possible, be provided by the government. There will be created a military training unit in each institution. Enlistment will be purely voluntary, but all students over the age of 18 will be encouraged to enlist. The enlistment will constitute the student a member of the Army of the United States, liable to active duty at the call of the President.

It will, however, be the policy of the government not to call the members of the training units to active duty until they have reached the age of 21,
unless urgent military necessity compels an earlier call. Students under 18, and therefore not legally eligible for enlistment, will be encouraged to enroll in the training units. Provision will be made for co-ordinating the Reserve Officers' Training Corps system, which exists in about one-third of the collegiate institutions, with this broader plan.

This new policy of the government has two main purposes: First to develop as a great military asset the large body of young men in the colleges, and second, to prevent the unnecessary and wasteful depletion of the colleges through indiscriminate volunteering, by offering the students definite and immediate military status. It will result in keeping the students in college until they are absolutely needed in the military service of their country.

Casualties among American military and naval forces in Europe and en route since war was declared—counting killed and wounded in battle, accidents, deaths from disease, losses on torpedoed and otherwise damaged ships, deaths among civilian attaches of the army in France—number slightly over 6000. Taking account of the total number engaged in the operation, this is a casualty rate of about one-half of one per cent. During the same period seven United States senators have died, out of a total of ninety-six. This is a rate of casualties in the Senate of 8 1/2 per cent, or seventeen times greater than among the armed forces in the war zone, and almost equal the rate in the front line trenches in battle. The senators who have passed away were not "old" men as the average age of statesmen go. They were Stone of Missouri, Lane of Oregon, Newlands of Nevada, Brady of Idaho, Broussard of Louisiana, Husting of Wisconsin and Hughes of New Jersey. This toll of death is unprecedented in the history of the Senate; it may speak somewhat of the strain under which the legislators are working during the present crisis.

Events of the last three days in Ireland should lead to serious thinking on the part of those few Americans of Irish origin who have been dealing with Mrs. Hannah Sheehy Skeffington and other Sinn Fein agents and who have been trying to interject themselves into the political affairs of Ireland. Of the 500 Sinn Fein leaders arrested for complicity in a pro-German conspiracy many maintained active correspondence with American citizens. The penalty for treasonable dealing with the enemy and for giving aid to the enemy is death.
What shall be the judgment of America on those misguided few Irish of Ireland who have conspired against the Irish of America fighting the battles of liberty in France and Belgium? It must be that we are at the parting of the ways for American sympathy and Sinn Fein conspirators. And it is time for the American government to act.

THE BOYS IN FRANCE.

If the world ever needed the activities of the Red Cross, it needs them today. On the green fields of France, on the blossoming plains and hills of Italy men are being crushed, maimed, burnt and torn under the thousand every hour. Unprecedented streams of mangled humanity are flowing back steadily from the firing lines. By the trainload and the motorload and the boatload men in the torments of hell are being carried back to hospitals that are overcrowded, to halls that are bare of beds, to residences and tents poorly equipped to give them relief.

And our own boys are caught in these streams of mangled humanity. Your own, your neighbor's son or brother may be lying in the rain or on a bare floor, in danger of being crippled for life because there are not enough beds, not enough supplies, dressings, instruments and capable nurses to go around.

What is a hundred million dollars compared with the ocean of misery that needs relief?
The American Red Cross has not a single failure on its record. America cannot fail the Red Cross in this bloody hour.—From Sunset Magazine for May.

NOTES and COMMENT

It is announced that on May 27 the question of railroad control by the State Railroad Commission will be discussed. Considering what is happening under William A. McAdoo, National Director General of Railroads,
there would not seem to be very much for state bodies to discuss.

It was an undoubted cynic who declared that holding up a bar-tender's club was such a unique reversal of the customary proceeding as to deserve leniency if the highwayman who achieved the feat should be apprehended.

We are likely to have an addition to the language. The things that are being done under the authority of Food Director Hoover are so unprecedented as to require a new verb for the concise expression of their character. What more expressive word could be employed than "hoove"? To say of a food product that it is to be hooved would at once convey the idea that it is to undergo the experience that wheat and its products are now undergoing.

The Peace League may have started out with a purpose in consonance with its name, but at its convention in Philadelphia Friday it declared in favor of winning the war, which almost everybody will admit cannot be done without a continuance of the fighting. It is a distinctly American attitude.

The wisdom of a regulation forbidding banners to be stretched across streets was illustrated in San Francisco yesterday when a banner across Market caught fire. No person was injured, but there was great possibility of such a happening.

Creech said in a public speech that inasmuch as he did not "enjoy aluminum" he would not attempt to explore the hearts of Congressmen. He now explains that he had no intent to reflect on members of the national law-making body. Of course, that is just as plain as the explanation of the man who knocked another down with a poker and said it was mere irony.

The announcement from Washington is that the country is now launching more than one wooden ship a day.
When we consider the number of iron ships also being turned out, and the swarm of concrete craft shortly to be set afloat, we can truthfully say that the U-boat is being circumvented.

Sugar is declared by the high scientists to be a cure for tuberculosis. The discovery is important, but that it should come just at a time when we are limited as to the amount of sugar
we can have, it is one of those in-opportune conjunctions that there is no accounting for.

Reassurance from the Chico Enterprise: "A rose by any other name will smell as sweet, and likewise the succulent sauerkraut under its degermanized name, liberty cabbage,
loses none of its flavor."

The Colusa Sun sets it forth this way: "The candidacy of the State
Democracy seems to be settling around Thomas Lee Woolwine of Los Angeles.
Southern California is coming forward with a vim, urging that consideration should be taken in regard to the fact that she has not had her share of gubernatorial worth and honor in so many long years, although she has talent, statesmanship and general ability for any American office."

Unregenerate rejoicing by the Redding Searchlight: "Hurrah for the members of the southern section of the Baptist church! They've been granted equal rights in conventions that no darned old deacon can take away."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

There's nothing like getting killed in action on the west front to make one popular. Private Ludwighouse was listed from Oakland, but Corporal and Hartford both lay claim to him and even Visalia remembers him as a frequent visitor.—Visalia Times.

Mrs. C. B. Hughes, wife of the principal of the Oroville high school,
a prominent club woman and Red Cross worker, has announced her willingness to try conclusions with Congressman Clarence F. Lea, of the First District. Evidently the women are being encouraged by the successful candidacy of Congresswoman Jeannette Rankin, of Montana.—St. Helena Star.

One hundred Red Cross nurses from San Francisco now stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., will receive $1678.65
as a donation from the officials, teachers and employees of the San Francisco school department. The money will be channeled as San Francisco School Teachers' Fund, and will be administered by Major Charles C.
Levinson, Col. J. Manly and Miss Jamieson, the chief nurse.—San Francisco Journal of Commerce.

Cattle rustlers have been at work
in certain parts of Solano county, stealing eleven cows and as many calves from the ranch of Robert Donald in Woodland Valley between the middle of April and the first of May.
This is the first time in some years
that rustling has occurred in this county. Sheriff McDonald offers $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the parties or party contriving the theft.—
Solano Republican.

M. P. Dillon of Walnut Creek, horticultural inspector, is conducting an active campaign against squirrels. One large ranch, Brookwood Acres, has been declared a public nuisance, and the squirrels have been poisoned by authority of Contra Costa county. This expense becomes a lien on the property. Two men spent 3 days each and distributed 200 pounds of poisoned grain. A large per cent of squirrels were destroyed.—Martinez Standard.

SOUL.

Out of the slime of world life, long ago
Emerging a crawling creature foul
and low.
It breathed and ate and wallowed in
the mud;
The spark of life stirred slowly in its blood.
It had a brain, but tho'ts stirred not within.
It reasoned not, nor comprehended sin.
It lacked the living thing that men
call Soul.

Beside the embers on a chill lake
shore
A skin-clad cave man sat by his cave door.
Beyond the light wild beasts smelled
living blood
And howled, but feared the fire and knotted club.
Secure within the lair, dark, damp
and crude,
In sleep, lay fawn-eyed mate and
new-born brood.
Perhaps here is the embryo of the Soul.

Upon a gilded modern throne today
A certain man-formed brute-thing
yet holds sway.
It has the rational brain-force of a man
But lacks the soul with which man-
world began.
The crawling reptile and the gibber-
ing ape
Had not the stuff with which a soul
to shape.
That spark of soul that birthed in cave man's breast
In this brute thing found barren soil
to rest.
His cruel eye sparkles with the greed
of gain;
He sacrifices life and love in vain.
His senses maddened in his war-lust
trance.

And uphold bleeding Europe in her

But all this striving will not be in

Campbell Wins Second Victory in Air Battle

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 20.—Douglas Campbell yesterday gained his second aerial victory. On the Toul sector he shot down in flames an enemy biplane containing two officers.

Returning from a trip over Germany at a height of 4500 meters, the lieutenant met a German photographic biplane going home. He maneuvered until he got under the tail of the German machine and then opened fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Lieutenant Douglas Campbell, who gained another aviation victory today, according to despatches from the American army in France, by shooting down in flames a German machine which contained two officers, is the son of Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of the Lick Observatory at Mount Hamilton, Cal. Two weeks ago Mrs. Campbell received from her son a black canvas cross, symbol of the German aviators which he had cut from the wing of his first victim, after swooping down to the German in pursuit of the German machine which was in flames.

BEWITCHING LITTLE MARGUERITE CLARK IN "RICH MAN, POOR MAN" AT KINEMA

Margie plays a few of her innocent little pranks in several scenes that will bring "Marguerite Clark" smiles from the most crabbed of unendurable people. Maximilian Foster's Saturday Evening Post story gives Margie plenty of new opportunities.

Of course, it is understood that when Marguerite Clark is the feature attraction at a playhouse that there is only one thing to expect and that is prime entertainment for an hour or two. All of which is especially true in her very latest "Rich Man, Poor Man," which is at the Kinema today and all this week. And as for luck—a new one this time is a game of hide-and-seek with that chunky landlord, and as for the part of Margie spinning the ball of mop-water on her persecutor. There are plenty of situations full of pathos and several times little Margie forces one of those queer lumps to rise in one's throat—but that sweet personality of hers shines right through everything, and we leave

MILLS CLASS BIDS ADIEU TO CAMPUS

The class of '18 of Mills College said "adieu" this morning. Accompanied by the members of the faculty and their classmates 200 strong the young women graduates who are bidding "good-bye" to their alma mater made their last pilgrimage to the spots they have loved through the four momentous years which have brought them up to commencement with honor. It was a colorful scene when the college women started on their way to Sunnyside, where sleep Mrs. Susan Mills and Dr. Mills, to whose minds and hearts is owed the splendid institution in the East Oakland hills, which is recognized as the foremost woman's college on the coast. Paying homage to the memory of the founders of the Mills College is one of the rites of Class Day.

Across the greenward through the woods to the west of the college the procession of womanhood wended its way. Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, the members of the faculty, in their caps and gowns and brilliant insignia, led the way for the seniors, who were followed by each of the lower classes. Two students were gowning simply in white. Garlands of green interwoven with white roses were carried by the graduates. The sophomores formed a moving arch with bended boughs, underneath which the seniors passed. Juniors and freshmen carried ropes of gorgeous, hued blossoms, the juniors with the flower reins, the freshmen in teams of three.

CLASS DAY CEREMONY.

The Class Day exercises preceded the pilgrimage, which with all its charm and romance yet holds a note of sadness. Dr. Reinhardt made a stirring address to the students body, addressing herself particularly to those who will go out from the college. Professor E. O. James of the English department represented the faculty.

Miss Marion Possona, president of the senior class; Miss Adelaide Hovey, president of the sophomore class, were the student speakers. The class poem was read by Miss Hilda Clute, and the class song rendered by the graduates.

The gift of the class of '18 to the alma mater was dedicated this morning. Whereas in other years it has been a tree that was planted or a rare bit of art which was given to remind the graduates of their alma mater, this morning it was a new building, this morning it was the furnishing of the room of the class of '18, which the student body claims as its own. It is a lovely home-like place which the score of girls have created with their own hands.

COMMENCEMENT TOMORROW.

Commencement will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in Jester Hall. Professor William Kelly, "prince of Princeton" will deliver the address, announcing as his theme "Loyalty." A chorus of fifty voices will sing "Manna, Slumber Song," with Miss Lotta Harris as soloist. The chorus will also render "Beauteous Morn." Rev. Edward Lamb Parsons, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Berkeley, will offer the invocation, "Lift Up Thy Voice," written by Miss Lydia Roberts and sung by Miss Willie May Spaulding, and "For Thee, Dear Land," written and sung by Miss Dorothy Fyfe, will be the original composition of the students to the graduating exercises.

Those upon whom degrees will be conferred tomorrow are:

Jane Lamb Abbott, Edith Edna Becker, Ruth Dorothea Stensrud, Doris Alexander, Helen Margaret Ayres, Alice Sylvia Becker, Rosalind Frances Cassidy, Hilda Clute, Mary Clarissa Gilbert, Marjorie McCrary Helman, Ruth Dorothy Hubbard, Carrie Viola Marshall, Anna Eva Maxwell, Mary Oiler, Marion Elida Possona, Hazel Frances Ross, Pauline Simon, Dorothy Mills Smith, Mabel Stockholm.

Those to receive certificates are:

Jessie Anderson, Lyella Aileen Daugherty, Willie Spaulding, Ida Lydia Roberts, Alice Bradley Gilbert, Eunice Engle, Berkeley Howell, June Wagner.

BACALAUREATE SERMON.

Dr. William Frederic Bade delivered the bacalaureate sermon to the graduating class yesterday. The duty which the trained mind owes beyond the untrained mind was the theme of the address. He said in part:

"If any one doubts the fact that the common purposes of good men are creating a new unity, a new democracy of spirit, it was sufficient to point to the remarkable, almost unbelievable unanimity of aims and purposes which now prevails in the councils and military camps of the allies. Through that consciousness the new democracy is finding a soul.

"Humanity demands a greater service from the trained than the untrained mind. It is of these that humanity asks much in this great strife for the preservation of civilization."

County School Superintendent George W. Frick has notified the teachers of the county schools that each child selling Red Cross tickets to the value of $1 will be given a button, and to each class averaging $1 for each pupil a 100 per cent card. The school making the best record for the campaign will win a handsome Red Cross flag of honor.

A request is communicated to the children that they will arrange to maintain Red Cross headquarters throughout the vacation. Attention is likewise directed to the serious shortage of nurses and the girls of the schools are asked to prepare themselves for nursing duties so they will be able to take the places of nurses who are called to the regular service. They are asked to take advantage of the Red Cross classes in nursing and first aid.

Why 'Caltex' wearers wear 'Caltex'

First—"Caltex" are the newest and most improved type of invisible double-vision glasses and are ground from a single piece of glass. "Caltex" Bifocals can be worn with absolute comfort, while many of the old-style bifocals cause decided discomfort. If you require two pairs of glasses, one for reading and one for distance, both can be combined in one pair by wearing "Caltex." "Equipoise," the new eyeglass, with "Caltex" One-piece Bifocals are an ideal combination.

In the parade they bore their flag in an automobile, on which the American flag was patterned in flowers. Twenty-five women marched with the flag.

$10,000 PRIZE SPURS WORK IN SHIPYARDS

Oakland's shipbuilders were stimulated to new efforts today with the news of an opportunity to win a notable prize for speed in turning out tonnage for the United States. News was received today of the offer of Charles M. Schwab, director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, to give $10,000 to the yard where the men turn out the biggest surplus over their scheduled shipbuilding program for the coming six months. Every shipyard in the United States is included in the offer.

Several big Eastern shipyards have offered to duplicate the bonus if their yards win in the unique contests. Word of the Schwab offer was received today through the Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately after the launching of a great steel cargo ship at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation Saturday night, work was commenced on the keel of a new vessel in the shipyard freed by the launching. This afternoon close to 500 tons of steel on the new ship were already in place. The new vessel will be a 12,000-ton cargo ship.

Nine vessels are to be launched from the yards of the Bethlehem company on both sides of the bay on the Fourth of July as the contribution of the two Union plants to the tonnage being placed in commission by the United States. This is the answer of J. J. Tynan and J. R. Christy, managers of the two local plants, to the offer of the $10,000 prize and to the management of the Bethlehem corporation in the East. It is particularly directed to J. W. Powell, vice-president of the company, with whom Tynan has a personal wager of $5000 that the plants here will turn out more destroyers this year than the Fore River plant of the corporation at Quincy, Mass. The men of the San Francisco bay plants have a wager of $20,000 with those of Fore River to the same effect. Powell left Seattle for the East yesterday after making an inspection of the ship building plants of the Seattle Construction and Drydock Company and the Skinner & Eddy corporation.

TWO KEELS LAID.

The Moore Shipbuilding Company also followed up the launching of two 7000-ton ships Saturday night with the laying of more keels. It is hoped to have a triple launching about the middle of June, the three vessels that were to have been launched July 4 being nearer completion than had been expected. This will make nine 9000-ton ships in the water this year. It is hoped that on this occasion Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the United States Emergency Fleet Corporation, may be present at the triple launching.

The riveting record of 2307 rivets driven by one man in a nine-hour day, made by Peter Bryer of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, is being broken here. It is hoped that Bryer's record will be made July 4, and several fast riveters are in training to try to carry off the prize.

Bryer drove 332 3/4-inch rivets and 2214 1/2-inch rivets, or an average of a rivet every ten seconds. It took two holders and three heaters to tend him.

The best record made in the Moore Shipbuilding plant so far is 413 rivets, but this was in an eight-hour day. At this rate the Moore riveter would have driven 2720 in a nine-hour day.

MARIO MASCHIO of Oakland, who is reported dead in France.

GOES BACK TO FIRST HUSBAND

What a student of fate's strange vagaries describes as the most remarkable series of co-incidences he has ever heard of, has brought William Sharvchenko, 26, supposedly executed by orders of the former czar, back into the life of his young wife, meanwhile married to Michael Bakanoff, 27, a Russian, living at 520 Ninth street, by whom she has a three-year-old son, Sharvchenko, and his wife, from whom he parted in Rostov-on-Don six years ago, are now seeking to take her son from husband No. 2.

The mother has sued in Superior Judge Cabaniss' court in San Francisco for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain possession of her son, whom, she alleges, Bakanoff has not allowed her to see since they quarreled and separated months ago. The judge issued an order for the appearance of the boy in court. After a week's search, Secretary M. J. White of the California Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children secured custody of the child, who had been boarded with a private family in San Francisco by the father. Whether or not the mother and her first husband will obtain possession of her young son will be decided in Judge Cabaniss' court tomorrow.

Dorothy Maschio, as she translated her name into English, read her husband's name among those executed for political crimes in Russia and married Bakanoff. Then the couple quarreled, the wife alleging she was forced out of her home. She finally became a landlady in a home near Redwood City. One day an officer from Camp Fremont near by, went to visit there, taking with him by chance, Private Sharvchenko.

"The man with me is a Russian," he said.

"Our landlady is a Russian," said the hostess. "Let them talk together." Thus strangely did the two long-lost husband and wife meet again. Sharvchenko told how he had escaped, fled through Austria and eventually reached America.

OAKLAND BOY INCLUDED IN FRANCE DEAD

Mario Maschio, son of Henry Maschio, 5264 Lawton avenue, is included in the list of dead sent by General Pershing from France and issued by the War Department today.

Until the latter part of April young Maschio had been exchanging three or more letters a week with his family in Oakland. At that time he was in training camp in New Jersey, and was expected to leave for the front, when he was quarantined with several other boys who had become ill. No more letters were received from him, and it was supposed by his family that he was on his way across the Atlantic. It is thought he may have contracted the disease while in quarantine, but his condition apparently did not become serious until he reached France. The family is awaiting more detailed information and hoping that there may be another letter, delayed in transit, on the way.

SALVATION OF WEST FRONT LAID BY MERRITT TO AMERICAN ZEAL

MOVE MEN BY THE THOUSANDS TO STOP HUNS

How American resource and daring saved the day when the Hindenburg drive was on in March, moving men and war material in a way that smashed any previous record of a like nature in the world's history was revealed by Ralph Merritt, Federal food commissioner for California, in an informal talk last night at the First Congregational church.

For three weeks not a vessel sailed from an Atlantic port carrying anything but men and their necessary military equipment, although England and France were doing so. Six weeks' food reserves, and Belgium was without a pound of reserves, Merritt declared. Every available ton of shipping was thrown into the gigantic drive to carry soldiers and munitions to the front, an elaborate program of food transportation that had been abandoned at a moment's notice to make possible the sending of men to help stop the German drive.

Americans met the emergency gallantly, and when the need of England and France was so great that the shipping was thrown back into food service again to replenish supplies that had been allowed to fall to the point where six weeks would have seen the people of England and France facing starvation. This emergency was also met with the same American thoroughness, and now a great food reserve is being built up for the allies in Europe to prevent the recurrence of a like danger, according to Merritt.

PRECISION IN CHANGE.

The facts of the magnificent service performed by the United States in helping to stop the German drive were told for the first time in this comprehensive way in which the carefully worked out plans were flung into the discard to meet the new needs when the demand arose. Merritt told the situation in a brief, dramatic recital of the facts.

He said: "Federal food administration had a carefully and elaborately worked out food campaign in operation to supply the allies. On March 21, Von Hindenburg started his western front drive. More than 300,000 tons of foodstuffs were in the pipeline during the following weeks in this drive, and at the same time there came the sudden demand for men and materials to make possible the counter blow necessary to stop the Germans."

and for three weeks not a ship sailed from the Atlantic coast with anything but men and their actual military equipment. There was never a movement like it in the history of any nation, when the lines of water transportation is considered.

"During the three weeks when we were facing the German drive, food supplies in England and France dropped to six weeks' reserve, and in Belgium, food reserves of Belgium had actually no reserves of food. The administration at Washington laid its plans to send men when men were needed most, and before the gravity of the food situation became too serious, and the flow of men into the lines of the allies could be reduced, the ships were put back to carrying food, and the reserves began to be replenished. It was a question of realizing the need, throwing every resource to meet it, an achievement in quick planning, instant execution of orders, clock-work carrying out of a program that meant defeat to the German plans to break through the western front."

REFRIGERATOR BOATS SUNK.

Food Commissioner Merritt gave for the first time the startling story of why meatless days were suddenly abandoned. It was because the system of sending meat to Europe by fourteen refrigerator boats known as known as Berlin, and the U-boats picked off the fourteen boats, leaving us with no means of sending the meat. It will be remembered that there was some murmuring about the institution of meatless days and their sudden abandonment. Merritt gave the answer as to why this was necessary.

"Circumstances are apt to arise at any moment that may disarrange the entire plans of the administration at Washington," said Merritt, "and all that the people can do is to take the suggestions from Washington and carry them out as faithfully as possible until the proper time comes for an explanation in full, an explanation which will always be forthcoming."

"We have no meatless days. Do you know why? We could not tell at the time, but the facts are that we had fourteen refrigerator boats running to Europe. The U-boats discovered the boats and picked off one of the fourteen meat transports in the Atlantic."

Startling Facts Are Revealed by Food Commission

Commissioner Merritt showed that:

For three weeks, during Hindenburg's drive on the western front not a ship left United States Atlantic ports carrying anything but American soldiers and their military equipment, and the greatest movement of men and material in the world's history, considering the distance of transport.

During this time food supplies in England and France became reduced to six weeks' reserve, and Belgium was without food reserves.

The United States met the emergency by bridging the Atlantic first with ships carrying men, and next with ships carrying food.

California is today the most favored region in the world. Food is more abundant and prices are lower.

California was asked to go on a 50-50 wheat basis, and responded by going on a 30-70 basis voluntarily, the figures in my office showing that we saved 70 percent of our wheat and are shipping it to Europe.

Wheat substitutes cost more, but don't talk about substitutes costing no more when the cause of liberty is in the balance.

The man who won't eat bran biscuits in this country when Americans, British and French are sacrificing their lives in Europe is a slacker.

their efforts to starve out England, and we simply could not handle the meat and we abandoned the meatless days.

MOST FORTUNATE HERE.

"We are the most favored people in the world right here in California. Food is more abundant and prices are lower than anywhere else in the world, and the conditions are such that we can very well afford to save for those over there."

It is simple. We have to feed our own people, numbering about 11,000,000, and in addition, feed 120,000,000 in Europe. We used to have 36,000,000 people in the food producing industries. Of this number 11-

REFRIGERATOR BOATS SMASHED BY DIVERS

600,000 have been transferred to war industries or to the army and navy, so two-thirds of these producers will have to do twice as much work. The United States and Canada will have to feed the allies. In the time it takes to send one cargo of wheat from India or Australia to England two cargoes can be sent from the Argentine and three cargoes from New York, and with one-third of the shipping of the world tied up in the transportation of war materials it means that the United States and Canada have got to feed the allies.

"This country will never go on ration cards. In the first place no rationing system has ever proved good, and in the second place it would cost the government between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 and without satisfactory results. It is un-American and unnecessary."

"A short time ago we asked that this state voluntarily go on a 50-50 wheat basis. Do you know what they did? They went on a 70-30 basis voluntarily. The figures in my office on Saturday night showed that California had saved 70 per cent of its wheat and was shipping that to Europe and that it was living on 30 per cent. But we have more tonnage than we can use. Through a fortunate transaction which I cannot detail we have secured a considerable amount of tonnage that can be released for this service and I want to keep that tonnage filled with wheat—not substitutes. We need still more wheat, and I am going to urge California absolutely to stop eating wheat so that we can fill that tonnage."

SEND WHEAT TO HOLD LINE.

"If you want that west line to hold you have got to send wheat, and we can do it just now. We may not be able to do it later. Soldiers will not fight if they think that the people behind their line are starving. We are doing well, but we must do better."

"And one more thing. The producers and manufacturers of California have stood by the people and the government. I know one firm that voluntarily relinquished $250,000 worth of profits that they could have taken and not been charged with profiteering. You say substitutes cost more. Don't let me tell that. I know it. But the profits to the manufacturers are less than on wheat flour. Manufacturers had to install new machinery to handle the substitutes, and the cost of operation is greater in every way, but don't talk to me about substitutes costing more when the cause of liberty is in the balance. Don't talk to me about those things when the sacrifices of France and Belgium are before us. The man who won't eat bran biscuits in this country is a slacker and is helping the Kaiser."

Food Administrator Merritt and his father are members of the congregation of the First Congregational Church and the meeting last night was made the occasion of a tribute of respect and honor to them.

SAY ACCUSED SLAYER HAS SET OF RULES

Reject all drivers who have not good machines.

Reject all married men. Make sure the driver will carry money with him.

These were the rules of Charles Messier, accused of the murder of Roy Mettler, automobile driver, on the road to Bakersfield on April 23. Sheriff Frank Barnett, whose staff captured the accused man, and who was one of the chief witnesses in the preliminary hearing at Los Angeles, returning today, says that the evidence of how the accused man chose the chauffeur for the fatal trip revealed a carefully thought-out plan.

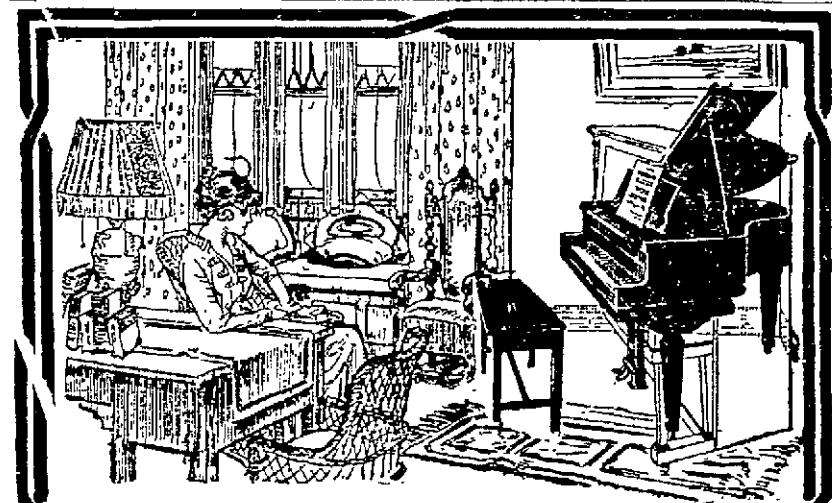

According to Barnett, Messier rejected all married men among the dozen chauffeurs he interviewed regarding the proposed trip to Oakland that ended in the slaying. He says that each man was questioned closely as to the value of his car, and those with cheaper cars rejected. He says that each man was carefully questioned as to whether he would carry considerable money with him, and that, after passing on many chauffeurs, the prisoner finally chose Mettler for the trip.

Messier confessed to slaying Mettler when arrested in San Francisco by Barnett's men, but said it was in self-defense and that he had purchased the machine in which the trip to Oakland was made from Mettler, paying $500 for it.

Barnett says that as soon as Messier arrived in Los Angeles from the East he purchased a revolver. Nothing has been unearthed by the detectives in regard to this circumstance. Two attorneys have been retained to defend Messier, relatives in the East sending money for the purpose. Messier was captured after driving to Oakland alone in the machine in which he and the chauffeur had come from Los Angeles, and was captured in San Francisco by Barnett's forces. The state's case is that he planned the slaying of Mettler, stole the automobile, and Mettler's money, and started for San Francisco. Messier sold a fountain pen he carried for 50 cents in Los Angeles, just before starting on the trip, a witness declared at the preliminary hearing.

Week-End Arrests Break All Records

Breaking the record of last week, the number of "drunks" taken into custody over Saturday night and Sunday was 68, according to the records of the police courts today. Last week the number was 65. Police Judge Mortimer Smith held court in the corridors of the city prison, where most of those held over night were released on suspended judgment. Others forfeited bail.

Leaders in Study and Play

They are the red-blooded children—completely alive in body and brain. Leave nothing undone to make the blood of your children rich, pure, red.

Watch, one of these Spring mornings, the regiments of youngsters swinging along to school. It's an inspiring sight. The small and tender-kiddies are toddling hand in hand to kindergarten or the primary grades. The grown-up boys and girls are on their way to high or preparatory school. But no matter what their age or size, the young eyes of all are turned in the same direction, their mentalities are being trained for the same purpose. They are the bright hope of America. They are the coming workers and planners of this great country.

Very likely your own little ones are trooping along with the rest. Are they leaders or shirkers in study and play? Whether they are leaders or shirkers depends upon you as well as their teachers. For the best of teachers can't shape the little minds the way they should go without your intelligent co-operation. It is your duty to send your children into the classroom with the little heads set firmly on sturdy shoulders and deep chests; with every muscle, nerve, and brain-cell nourished by rich, red blood.

Nature herself points the way. Build up the young bodies with plain, nourishing foods, fresh air, sleep, and rest. Teach your children exercises that will fill out the little chests and keep straight the little shoulders. And at the least sign of poor blood put them on Gude's Pepto-Mangan.
